...Holding this position, I shall
...some of the reasons why I pre-
...Mr. Breckinridge to Mr. Douglas ...I shall do without attempting to ...differ with any individual Democrat
...my State Democratic organization
...holding different opinions from myself
...main object of all good Democrats ...other belonging to the one or the wing of our unfortunate division to defeat the election of the Republican candidates; and I shall never oppose any honest and honorable course calculated to accomplish this object.

the opinion of the Supreme Court of the United States establishing this unity. The sovereign States of this Union are one vast partnership. Their territories were acquired by the common blood and common treasure of them all. Each State, and each citizen of each State, has the same right in the territories as any other State and the people of any State possess. Now is sought for at present is, that a on of these States should turn and to their sister States and say are holier than you are, and while will take our property to the Territoand have it protected there, you not place your property in the position." This is precisely what intended for. What the Democra-tics maintain, and what is the true policy of Democracy, is, that all the

They are the objects for the protection which all enlightened Governments were established. But it is not now to place the property of the citizens, under what is called the principle of equal sovereignty, is the er of the Territorial legislature to ascute it at their will and pleasure that is the principle sought to be lished at present; and there seems e an entire mistake and misunderding among a portion of the public on this subject. When was properly submitted to the will of the ity? (Never.) If you hold erty as an individual you hold it pendent of Congress or of the State Legislature, or of the Territorial Legislature—it is yours; and your Constitution was made to protect your private property against the assault of legislative power. (Cheers.) Well, now, the effect of principles which will deprive you of your property is against the cause of your property is against the cause of the Republican Government, and to that extent makes you a for the man who has power over property to confiscate it has power over your means of subsistence; and it is contended that although the Constitution of the United States confers no such power—although no State Legislature has any such power yet a territorial Legislature, in the remote extremities of the country, can confiscate your property!

Voice. "They can't do it; they are going to do it.")

There is but one mode and one alone to abolish slavery—in the Territories. That mode is pointed out in the Cincinnati platform, which has been as much represented as anything I have ever seen. The platform declares that a majority of the actual residents in a territory, whenever their number is

State, possess the power "to form a new institution with or without slavery, to be admitted into the Union upon a basis of perfect equality with the others." If there be squatter sovereignty in this resolution I have never been able to perceive it. If there be preference in it to a Territorial Legislature, it has entirely escaped my notice, and, as the above paragraph

It presents the clear principle at the time the people form their constitution, they shall then decide if they will have slavery or not. Yet it has been stated over and over again that, in accepting the nomination under that platform, I endorsed the doctrine of squatter sovereignty. Suppose you have all heard this repeated a thousand times. I will give you a voice. "We know it was a lie."

well, I am glad you did. Now beautifully this plain principle of constitutional law corresponds with the best interests of the people! Under the law, emigrants from the North and South, from the East and the West, are equal to the Territories. They carry with them that property which they have acquired, and those interests which they will best promote. They are not to be hindered in their material interests; they live together in and harmony. The question of slavery will become a foregone conclusion before they have labored enough to enter the Union as a State. There then be no "bleeding Kansas" in the Territories; they will all live together in peace and harmony, promoting the prosperity of the Territory and their own prosperity until the time arrives when it becomes necessary to secede.

framing a constitution. Then the question will be decided to the satisfaction. But, upon the finite principle, what will you find territories? Why, there will be no territory at all the time. Territorial legislature may establish another territorial legislature and another territorial legislature may abolish it, and so the struggle continued throughout the territory.

existence. The people, instead of devoting their energies and industries to promote their own prosperity, are in a state of constant strife and dissension, just as we have witnessed in the Philippines. Therefore there is no possibility of a principle that can be so injurious to the best interests of a Territory as that which has been called squatter sovereignty.

Let me place this subject before you from another point of view. The people of the Southern States can never understand the great principle of State sovereignty in the Union without self-determination. Never without the knowledge that there are no

GREAT POLITICAL EXCITEMENT!

Now that the nominations are all made and the campaign fairly commenced, with the most flattering prospects for Breckinridge and Linn. The undersigned proposes to sell his land and stump it for the cause of Linn. His tract contains 350 acres, 110 acres of which is cleared, under good fence, and in a high state of improvement, with tolerable fair improvements for a poor white man; a good Gin Screw and all other necessary and necessary accessories. This Land is lawfully situated on the western bank of the Goose River, within two miles of the Selma and Goose River R. R.; it lies five miles below the flourishing little town of Gadsden.

There is on the premises a good well six never-failing springs of water. The water of these springs possesses the most astounding properties—for you have only to add a few drops of good old Pepper and a little of the best of Oil of Eucalyptus and you have the most effective and the most pleasing sensation alluring the most endearing recollection, dispel gloom; invigorate your physical system, expand your intellectual faculties, and you can run your business with the town and a astonish your friends.

the mind. Now any man who is a State Agent in the United States can vote the ticket, can have a letter, large or small, in the above described land, which has been laid in land of the same quality since the time the Territorials were carried captive into Kentucky, and can be numbered as he pleases to your tenth generation. A newspaper, that will animate and cheer up the whole plowing spirit of the whole domestic circle and light up the smile of prosperity into the countenance of every farmer, and you will be irretrievably compelled to explain to a foolish landholder that Wright was to take me thus increase my worldly goods to the consequent diminution of his. I will only give you further information. A newspaper, containing document should meet the wishes of any of the friends of Mr Breckinridge or even the friends of Mr Bell who are anxious to make a rise in this lower and western part of the State, and of course of land of the size of the above, he cannot do better, than to come forward and make a speedy purchase.

The Methodist clergyman, in writing the obituary notice, says: "The approach of the drought in Sabine Parish, La. Thence from which we make the following record, is dated June 20th, 1860. The drought in this section is very severe and extensive. We have had no rain of any consequence since February. The corn is dying in the fields, and most of the grass is burnt or dried up. More than half the stock has perished."

THE "BOUNDARY QUESTION" was never heard of more beautiful incident in the life of Mr. Webster, than which he related to a friend of mine. It was in effect this: "When Ashburton and myself," said that man, "sat down, at opposite sides of a table, entirely alone as both had agreed to consider the Northeastern boundary difficult, I said to his Lord-

There is a strange history connected with Jesse Burton, one of the men arrested at Burton. Some forty years ago a cold-blooded murder was perpetrated in the State of Vermont. The murdered man was a brother-in-law of John G. Colby, and Colby and another man were charged with the crime. Colby was acquitted, but the other man was convicted and sentenced to be hanged. On the execution day came, and large crowds poured into the village to see the murderers swing. They reached the scaffold and the noose was placed over their heads. The crowd was so great that the executioner could not get near the scaffold. He was forced to stand at the corner of the street, and the crowd was so close that he could not get near the scaffold. reopened on Monday, August, under the superintendence of Miss entire Snow.

It has had control of this institution two terms; and has given entire satisfaction to all manner of government; allowing the pupils placed under her control to receive the privilege of their desire to have their daughters thoroughly educated; if there be any at large, and if they be not sent to school, we would be pleased to have
